Zeitgeist is a mind heist – venus project is a scam ?

Just another WordPress.com weblog

Zeitgeisters believe they are the smartest people alive

I have noticed a lot of arrogance in their discussions on their forums, in their comments on youtube and facebook, even on blogs.

According to their incredibly self important belief in themselves, only the smartest people understand zeitgeist and the Resource Based Economy.

I got a few things to say about that, I understand it and completely disagree with it, so perhaps that makes me even smarter than the zeitards.

Or maybe those who do understand it and choose not to follow it blindly or talk about it are the smartest ?

Or maybe those who have never heard of it but do things for humanity that are actually useful and important are smarter ?

Or maybe people who don't spam blogs, youtube videos and peoples facebook posts with their self righteous opinions about how fucking smart they are are smarter ?

Just saying, now fuck off.

1. That makes no sense...the whole point is to do something bigger than yourself...and all yo can think about is how to turn it into a personal attack on yourself.....you're probably smart enough to understand it, but too ignorant and shallow to know that money and greed should never be made to be the motivation of a well operating society.....now, YOU STFU you silly sheep

- Nice plastic psyche analysis attempt you did there, didn't prove effective but good try.

3. man...you'd dedicate a whole blog to hate on an organization? I get where you're coming from but even I wouldn't start a blog dedicated to tearing down groups of people I don't approve of. With all due respect, I wouldn't waste my time.

- Then don't waste your time no one asked you to. Meanwhile I have put together lots of stuff on here for others to check out, trot along.

4. It's tragic to see people get lost in arguments over "who is smarter," especially when it is irrelevant to the discussion of how to run the world, given that everybody deserves to have equally considered input. Perhaps the most disappointing thing about TZM and TVP is that they actually do provide useful information and make good points worthy of consideration, but then immediately render these points moot by behaving contrary to the very ideals they profess! For instance, in a perfect structure worthy of the ideals they uphold, the TZM would not have one leader, or even regional leaders, but would consist of a rotating group of members who periodically shift rank and control based solely on a basis of merit and fairness, with an emphasis on discussion of all types of suggestions and structures within which to redesign the world. I, for one, neither agree with this blog completely nor disavow it as untrue, which is the same attitude I hold for TZM, for one simple reason—all information is useful when forming opinions and should not be ignored, even if you disagree with it (in part or entirety).

What is particularly sad is how useful, informative, and thought provoking the films are/were before any sort of organized movement comes into play surrounding them.

5. lol what is the point in this? there is no actual information and no facts refuting zeitgeist in the slightest. instead of writing dumb shit you could realize how the system really works

7. I have read much of what you have written on this site, however, one thing I haven't come across is your opinion on:

1. The current state of society
2. How you would improve society
3. What are you currently doing to improve society
4. Is there anything in Zeitgeist Addendum/Moving Forward that you agree with?

Thanks.

- o I have no solutions as I have said many times I am not conceited enough to believe I can figure all the worlds problems out and create a solution that works for every human being on the planet, I leave that for the egotistical maniacs and would be pol pots of this planet.

8. Yeah... Whoever you are, you're a fucking idiot. You can't use proper English, make logical arguments, or even keep your mouth shut about topics which you know nothing of. Haha. It's mostly amusing... and kind of sad.

- o Anger management issues from the cult members rear their head once again. The peace loving hippy space cult who want a world that is good for all, but if you don't agree or want the same things as they do "you will be annihilated or you can go kill yourself".

Zeitards are their own worst enemies.

anticultist said this on January 24, 2012 at 11:14 pm

- o you talk money THAT IS FAR WORST THAN SHIT. DONT SUFFER THE CHANGE IS IMMINENT

AGUSTIN MIRANDA said this on January 25, 2012 at 4:49 am

- o Go away and learn English better and try not to CAPS rage as much, you might have more people take you a little more seriously in discussions,. After that drop the cataclysmic fantasy and the doom porn, and learn how the real world works as opposed to how you believe it works based on conspiracies, you might even be talked to with less contempt and satire after that. Until then your comments are worthless here.

anticultist said this on January 25, 2012 at 6:12 am

- o YOU IGNORANT, I KNOW ENOUGH ENGLISH TO LET YOU KNOW WHAT A BIG GARBAGE YOU ARE. POOR ASSHOLE. THE REAL CHANGE IS UNSTOPPABLE. YOU ARE JUST AN INSIGNIFICANT RAT

AGUSTIN MIRANDA said this on January 25, 2012 at 7:05 am

- o I had to allow this last comment, look at the sheer fucking stupidity of the person, they represent zeitgeist so efficiently and eloquently that one wonders why they haven't had more success yet. LOL.

anticultist said this on January 25, 2012 at 4:21 pm

- o yeah, that's what i'm talking about. not even one intelligent comment? there is much power in mass media and people like peter joseph should have known better and should have been more careful with that power. my dislike for zeitgeist is personal because i watched as it plunged a friend of mine further into depression, and i could do nothing about it although i tried. i wasn't even aware that this had become a full-blown movement until about a year ago and what i saw shocked the hell out of me at first but now i've grown to recognize it. i call it a cult because it seems to have an identity of it's own. all this "what's your solution?" referring to people as "humans" in a way that gives me the creeps, not to mention these hateful outbursts like those most recent comments up there. all this "who's paying you?" paranoia, acting like the movies are some kind of bible or holy grail (i only watched the first one by the way so feel free to condemn me for being an ignorant dry piece of shit, hahahah, fuck your movies man, and fuck peter joseph too). i'm a student of mass communications by the way and zeitgeist could make a good example of "the dangers of irresponsible journalism in the present day". peter joseph has really fucked this one up. i wonder what his solution is?

Ian said this on January 26, 2012 at 2:07 pm

13. Just a thought... some "government"s or organizations pay people like this one to sow dissent. Only fools and madmen can deny reason (known fact from over 4000 years ago; Solomon)... even those paid to do it are fools and madmen google: "only a fool can deny reason", read, think

- o You think I am paid to laugh at idiots who believe in nonsense ?

Must be a nice job to get paid to laugh at foolish people on the internet, let me know if you find someone willing to pay me, because at the moment this is all done for my own entertainment and disagreement with conspiratards..
